Volunteer With Raggy Charters

Experience South Africa's Ocean Wildlife While Supporting Conservation

Have you ever dreamed of being surrounded by some of the largest animals on Earth? Imagine joining a boat trip across the Indian Ocean, watching whales and dolphins in their natural environment, learning from experienced marine guides, and becoming part of a team dedicated to protecting our oceans.

Join Raggy Charters in South Africa for a unique international volunteering experience combining marine conservation, wildlife encounters, environmental education, eco-tourism, cultural exchange, and life by the ocean.

Raggy Charters offers local volunteers the opportunity to become involved in marine conservation and eco-projects while experiencing the incredible wildlife of South Africa.

1 About Raggy Charters

Raggy Charters is the oldest eco-whale watching company in the region and the only operator with all the necessary permits to ensure the highest standards for responsible marine wildlife encounters.

As a volunteer, you will have the opportunity to become part of the Raggy Charters team, taking part in a wide range of activities, including environmental education, conservation initiatives, community outreach, marine wildlife monitoring, scientific projects and spending more time at sea while learning from experienced professionals.

Daily operations including but are not limited to: assisting with the preparation and running of boat trips, helping to maintain our boats, welcoming and interacting with guests, sharing information about marine wildlife and supporting research activities whenever required. During our cruises, we collect valuable data on the whales and dolphins and we do photo-identification, and volunteers are encouraged to participate in this process. The photographs and the data contribute to long-term studies on cetacean populations, migration patterns, behaviour, and conservation.

2 Volunteer activities

As a volunteer at Raggy Charters, you will be assisting with the daily activities of the organisation and even some extraordinary activities. Every day is different, depending on the weather, wildlife sightings, and ongoing projects:

- Recording marine wildlife sightings and collecting field data
- Photography of marine wildlife and daily operations.
- Helping with the day-to-day running of our base.
- Assisting with the preparation and running of boat trips, welcoming and interacting with guests, sharing information about marine wildlife and supporting research activities whenever required.
- Planned events participation and logistic help.

3 Costs & Programme Options

We offer several programme options to suit different schedules and interests. Regardless of the length of your participation, every volunteer plays an important role in protecting and conserving Algoa Bay's unique marine and coastal ecosystems.

You can join the programme for three, six, or twelve months. While a three-month volunteering provides an excellent introduction to the programme, we highly recommend participating for six to twelve months to fully immerse yourself in the experience, develop your skills, and participate in the wide range of activities and events that Raggy Charters organises throughout the year.

Raggy Charters also values building long-term relationships with volunteers. The involvement and support of local community members create meaningful benefits for both the organisation and the volunteers. As your commitment and experience grow, you may be invited to attend meetings and special events, as well as take on greater responsibilities within the team, depending on your level of involvement and development throughout the programme.

Programme	Fee*
3 month	ZAR 4,800
6 month	ZAR 4,600	(Save ZAR 1,200)
